New Take Away range from Dempson

In response to customer requests for a co-ordinated, functional “off the shelf” range of packaging for the fast food sector, Dempson the paper packaging products manufacturer has designed and created a Take Away range of foodservice packaging to suit their needs.

The Take Away range comprises white kraft SOS “grab” bags, perfect for cakes, sandwiches and bakery items and greaseproof bags ideal for burgers, pizza and fries. Both bags are available in four sizes to suit a variety of different foods and soft white serviettes in two sizes complement the range.

The co-ordinated Take Away range carries a simple, stand out design that adds to the image of any fast food/take away food outlet and with the added benefit of no design costs and available from stock from distributors across the UK.

Paul Laskey, Sales and Marketing Director at Dempson Ltd said: “For fast food and take away outlets looking for functional, cost effective paper packaging products in a variety of practical sizes to present their hot and cold food menu offerings, our Take Away range is the ideal solution.”
